

South West nursing staff, learn how to write your stories

Black History and Racism: Stories and Writing Workshop

RCN South West #present365 event: Capturing the Stories of South West Nurses

11 October 2021

1:00 pm until 5:00 pm

Online via Microsoft Teams

(Open to HCAs, APs, TNAs, NAs, apprentices and non-RCN members)

This event will shine a light on the history of racism in the west country and teach you how to share your own powerful stories.

Writer and poet Louisa Adjoa Parker will talk about her personal experiences of living and working in rural Dorset, and the impact of what she terms 'mini micro-aggressions'.

The second session will be a lesson in how to reflect on and write about your own experiences, which might otherwise remain oral history; more easily lost in time.

Book online at www.rcn.org.uk/southwest/southwest-events or email eventsreg@rcn.org.uk quoting event number 2340.

Alternatively you can call our events team on 02920 546 460 quoting event number 2340.

Facebook: www.facebook.com/rcnsouthwest - Twitter: @RCNSouthWest - Web: www.rcn.org.uk/southwest